

Please let business and industry compete on their own merits and capabilities. No one like a coward who stands behind anyone else's skirt. New and emerging technology should be allowed to develop and compete and be allowed to fair in accordance to public acceptance not due to innane and obstructive governmental interference.

Tell the NAB to take off the gloves and fight fairly and aggressively and not use the government to hide their inadequacies, shortsightedness, or lack of feature/function.

The government is already intruded enough forcing manufacturing offshore, retarding American innovation and resourcefulness, and completely hosing the concept of balanced international trade.
